Heaven Got a Good One

Heaven Got a Good One

We all knew he was too good for this earth
Too good to walk down here amongst all this dirt
We did our best to help him with his trials
Turns out it was him helping us all the while
Never again will he sleep alone
He has been called home

Heaven got a good one today, another angel through the gate
Free from all his earthly pain, heaven got a good one today

I bet the angels wondered where had he been
He was down on earth suffering
Not once did he lose his faith
He lived a life full of love and grace
Never again will he sleep alone
He has been called home

Heaven got a good one today, another angel through the gate
Free from all his earthly pain, heaven got a good one today

I know you no longer fight
Dawn has come to your long dark night
I know that you see again
As you walk in the great garden

Heaven got a good one today, another angel through the gate
Free from all his earthly pain, heaven got a good one today
